

Quality Policy 2018

With its products and services, our Wiring Systems Division provides outstanding quality to promote the best connection between us and our customers, employees, investors and business partners.

All employees in the company successfully use their knowledge and skills on a daily basis to actively work on continually improving efficiency, quality and productivity.

Support for this comes from our continuous improvement (CI) tools and methods, which are made available via the LEONI Productivity System LPSplus, and by providing regular training for all our employees.

We are committed to providing the highest quality and can guarantee that no cost savings will ever detract from quality. LEONI not only supports the improvement of quality in all processes by open communication throughout the company but also promotes innovation in the company and when working with its partners.

Our Division's special focus for 2018:

- Improving customer satisfaction and efficiency by approaches that include meeting customer requirements according to IATF 16949
- Preventive action is the basis of our zero-defect strategy
- We offer solutions for electromobility, self-driving cars and Industry 4.0
